PREFACE

This is the second biennial report of the Department of State carrying tables on corporations, trade-marks, land grants, and securities. The first report received such wide and favorable comment on the part of public officials, corporations, executives, practicing attorneys, and the people generally, it has been determined that this type of report will be continued and become a permanent policy. As bienniums pass, an unbroken chain of reports from this department in libraries of corporations and practicing attorneys will give an accurate picture of the status of most of the corporations doing business in North Carolina. It is hoped that the information contained in these reports will be of great value to the people of the State.

DUTIES OF SECRETARY OF STATE

The office of Secretary of State is constitutional, and the Secretary of State is the chief administrative officer of the Department of State. By virtue of the Constitution of North Carolina and statutes enacted thereunder, the Secretary of State is a member of the Governor's Council of State, member of the State Board of Education, member of the Local Government Commission, member of the State Board of Public Buildings and Grounds, member of the Municipal Board of Control, Chairman of the Board of Advisors of the World War Veterans Loan Fund, and a Trustee of the State Library.

In addition to the duties imposed upon the Secretary of State by virtue of his membership on the foregoing Boards and Commissions, he is specifically required to attend at every session of the Legislature for the purpose of receiving bills which shall have become laws, and to perform such other duties as may then be devolved upon him by resolution of the two Houses, or either of them. He shall attend the Governor whenever required by him for the purpose of receiving documents which have passed the Great Seal. He receives and keeps all conveyances and mortgages belonging to the State. He enrolls, edits, and distributes all acts and resolutions passed by the General Assembly, and distributes all legislative journals of the General Assembly and the reports of the Supreme Court. He is required to countersign every commission issued by the Governor. He is the custodian of all oaths taken by State Officials, and likewise the custodian of all election returns of the State. He has charge of trade-mark registrations and all corporation records, foreign and domestic, issuing certificates of incorporation and domestication. He is custodian of the Land Grant Office, and issues grants upon application for newly entered land. He maintains a division of publications and compiles, edits, and distributes state directories, the North Carolina Manual, court calendars, and session law pamphlets.

All amendments to the Constitution of North Carolina are enrolled by the Secretary of State among the permanent records of the Department of State.

The Secretary of State is the sole commissioner and administrator of North Carolina's Securities Act, commonly known as Capital Issues Law.

THE OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE

The office of Secretary of State developed from that of Secretary of the Province, which began in 1675 with the appointment of Robert Holden, and continued by the Constitution of 1776. The Secretary of the Province was appointed by the Crown at pleasure, and received his patent from the Governor's Council. He was a Justice of the Peace, Clerk of Pleas of the Crown, and issued land grants. The Constitution of 1776 made the term three years and the method of appointment election by the General Assembly. The Constitution of 1835 reduced the term to two years. The Constitution of 1868 increased the term to four years, and made the office elective by the people.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

State of North Carolina,
Department of State,
Raleigh, November 6, 1940.

His Excellency, CLYDE R. HOEY, Governor;
Honorable J. M. BROUGHTON, Governor-elect; Members of the General Assembly, and the People of North Carolina,

GREETINGS:

Pursuant to requirements of law and in keeping with custom, I have the honor to submit herewith this department's biennial report for the fiscal biennium July 1, 1938-June 30, 1940.

The various tables appearing in this report indicate the volume of business handled by the department and I have attempted to present information on the various subjects in such a way as will make it of value to many people. The growth of the department and its steadily increasing activities make it necessary that each employee be especially skilled in his or her line of work. It is the policy of the department, one which receives the wholehearted cooperation of every employee, to give prompt, courteous, and efficient service to all people having business with it.

I show herein an itemized statement of moneys received and payments made to the State Treasurer in the administration of all activities of the Department of State for the biennium ending June 30, 1940.

During the biennium certain governmental activities heretofore performed by the Legislative Reference Library were transferred to this department and these additional functions will appear in the North Carolina Manual which is now being compiled by me for distribution during the forthcoming session of the General Assembly.

I acknowledge my grateful thanks and appreciation to all governmental agencies, public officials, and the people generally, for the splendid cooperation which is being received in my effort to make the services of this department of invaluable aid to the whole people.

Your obedient servant,

THAD EURE,

Secretary of State.
